Information for Fishermen

A. T. Driscoll, of the Railway Mail Service, won the ribbons on Saturday at Gunpowder River, Maryland. His phenomenal catch was seven yellow heads, average weight one ounce, and eleven crabs.

Three residents of Northeast Washington will leave tomorrow on an extended fishing trip. They are P. H. McNamara, Jere Connell, and Thomas Curtin, all enthusiastic devotees of the piscatorial sport.

The party will first spend a week at Atlantic City, and then will repair to the celebrated fishing resort at Seabright, N. J. They are prepared to bring home large stories, if not large catches, to their friends.

Detective Frank Burrows, of the Seventh precinct, who is a recognized authority on fishing, said this morning to a Times reporter that the sport was practically at a standstill until about the middle of September. The Potomac this summer, he said, has been cloudy almost continually, and wholly unfit for fishing.

In September, he says, the large fish will begin to bite in the rough water near Cabin John Bridge. Mr. Burrows is a fisherman of old, and has made some of the biggest catches in this section of the river.

FATHER OF MRS. HANSEN RESIDES IN BROOKLYN

Friend Writes That Relatives Would Reclaim the Body.

Captain Boardman received a letter from Brooklyn last night, containing the first definite information received concerning the history of Mrs. Hansen, the suicide, since the discovery of her body. The letter follows:

"We read in the morning papers of the finding of the body of Mrs. Katharine La Morlie Hansen. Mrs. Hansen has a father and dear friends here who are inexpressibly shocked at this tragedy, not having had the least surmise of any trouble between her and her husband. I write at the instigation of this father, who is feeble and aged, to know what can be done by him under the circumstances within his limited means. If Mrs. Hansen has already been buried by the authorities, can her body be subsequently reclaimed, as is his wish, and can you give an approximate idea of the cost of so doing, and any other information relative to the subject. Please send reply to S. A. WELLER, "630 Leonard Street, Brooklyn."

Captain Boardman has replied to this letter, giving the desired information, and then turned the communication over to Acting Coroner Glazebrook. An effort will be made to procure more definite information concerning the woman now that her friends have been located.

The report that Mrs. Hansen's father has been located in Brooklyn, N. Y., is generally discredited in Georgetown, as frequently Mr. Hansen was heard to say around the office that his wife's father died shortly after she left school.

The fact that Mrs. Hansen left a note stating that she had no friends or relatives, also discredits this. The day after her husband's disappearance, she told Justice Payne that her father died when she was a young lady, and that she had not had a happy day since his death.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS AT MARSHALL HALL

The excursion given by Franklin Lodge, Knights of Pythias, to Marshall Hall, last Monday, was a pronounced success. A long and varied program of dances had been arranged, and at the conclusion of the second number Capt. W. H. G. Simmons announced that the diamond ring offered to the woman selling the most tickets for the excursion would be awarded to Mrs. Beulah E. Totten.

The money realized from the excursion will go to create a fund to be used in the purchase of an elaborate paraphernalia. The committee in charge of the excursion was composed of W. H. G. Simmons, Thomas Adams, Charles E. Palmer, H. Z. Greer, W. D. Campbell, and W. H. Kramer.

YOUTH THROWN FROM CARRIAGE.

James, the young son of William Caldwell, living on the Loughboro Road beyond Georgetown, was sitting in the carriage in front of his house last night about 11 o'clock, when the horse took fright and ran away, overturning the carriage and throwing out the boy. He was carried home and Dr. Ray, of Tenleytown, was called and found his injuries were not serious.

WOMAN HOUSEBREAKER ONCE MORE IN TOILS

Ella Braxton Likely to Spend More Time in the Penitentiary.

Ella Braxton, the noted female housebreaker, is again in the toils. She is the negress who has served thirteen years in the penitentiary. She was only recently released from a three-year sentence, having been sent up the last time on evidence given by Detective Frank Baur. She was arrested yesterday by Detectives Hartigan, Muller, and Cornwell, as she was climbing over a board fence at 824 Second Street southwest.

There are at present twelve charges of housebreaking against the woman, and before she is arraigned in Police Court tomorrow there will likely be more. As fifteen years is the maximum penalty for housebreaking, under the new code, should Ella be convicted and receive long sentences under each charge, she will have to live to a ripe old age to serve her full time.

For some time the District has been the scene of a lot of petty housebreaking cases, which have annoyed the victims and puzzled the police. In a number of cases a negro woman was seen to leave the house, but in no case was she thought to be guilty. It was supposed she was a servant seeking a place of employment. The fact that she was a woman was the one which threw the victims off the trail.

At last the detectives, noting the frequency with which a woman was seen to enter or leave the robbed houses, thought of Ella, and, looking up her record, found that she had been discharged from the Mountsview penitentiary about three months ago. That settled it. They soon got on her trail, surrounded the house, and when she attempted to escape, took her into custody.

Among the complainants against the woman are Mrs. Anna Norris, of 612 Massachusetts Avenue northwest; Mrs. Charles Wilson, of 223 F Street northwest; Mrs. Vincetti Buglione, of 905 G Street northwest; J. A. Sheppard, 1224 B Street southwest; Mrs. J. C. Spottswood, 71 I Street northwest; Charles Payne, 431 Eighth Street southwest; Mrs. Maude Callis, 453 C Street southwest; Mrs. Nettie Rucker, Charles Lewis, and Harry Miles, at the same house, and Mrs. Thomas Ruppert, of 470 C Street northwest. Property belonging to all of these people was found in a trunk in the woman's room, and will be returned to the owners when the trials are over.

The Secret of Success.

"Get something the people need. Then let the people know you've got it." That is the plain-talk prescription for business success given by Mr. H. L. Kramer, the famous creator and advertiser of Cascarets, Candy Cathartics, which in a few years have developed a sale of a million boxes a month. Every reader of this newspaper knows that the manufacturers of Cascarets have persistently used newspaper advertising to "let the people know," and the results have shown that Major Kramer "got something the people need." It is a great object lesson in the school of business.—Adv.

RUBLOFF WORKED GRAFT ON SEVERAL COLORED MEN

Man Arrested at Instigation of "Washington Post" Had a Number of Victims.

H. Rubloff, who was held in $1,500 bond on a charge of false pretenses preferred by Tony Richardson, of the "Washington Post," Monday, was in court again yesterday.

It developed that the "Post" is not the only complainant against Rubloff. For some time he has been employed by the National Trust Company, with offices in the Star and Warder buildings, to solicit subscriptions to stock. Detectives Hartigan and Holan discovered that Rubloff has conducted several negroes to these offices, telling them that they were his, and offering them employment. He said that he was conducting a slot machine business, and for a deposit of $5 "as an evidence of good faith," he would give them jobs.

Negroes who put up the "deposit" were James McKinney, of 57 L Street northwest; Eugene Griffin and Jesse Abbott, the latter a fourteen-year-old boy, who was to collect the money from the machines. The first two named were to deliver them. Lewis McKinney and Arthur Staten were to meet Rubloff on Saturday night and give him $5 each, but at that time Rubloff was under arrest. These several charges were preferred against Rubloff, and will be heard on Friday.

WASH GOODS, 9c
 Worth Up to 50c.

How's that for Thursday? We think, although a one-day offering, it will stand out in price reduction as one of the most prominent efforts of the season.

The goods offered are assembled from various lines, mostly lace-striped and grenadine-striped novelties, that have never been sold even in our recent clearance sale for less than 12½c, and from that price up to 25c. The original retail values ranged up to 50c.

Many pretty patterns, and some in plain colors with novelty lace stripes. Combinations of pink and white and white grounds with black polka dots are the two most favored effects in colored wash goods this season, and constitute a large part of the offerings.

JUSTICES OF PEACE OBJECT TO REDUCTION

Protest to Commissioners Against Abolition of Salaries.

Ten justices of the peace have filed a protest with the Commissioners against a reduction of their salaries from $3,000 to $2,000 per annum. The protest is directed against the provision of the act making appropriations for the expenses of the District for the current year by which they cannot receive compensation, they claim, at a rate to exceed $2,000 per year.

The justices are Charles J. Bundy, Jr., Samuel C. Mills, Samuel R. Church, L. C. Strider, Lewis I. O'Neal, Henry Randall Webb, H. E. Paine, Robert H. Terrell, Thomas H. Callan, and E. M. Hewlett.

In their protest they claim the law entitles them to compensation at the rate of $3,000 per year, that being the salary affixed to their office. They claim they are advised by counsel, and the protest against the payment of lower salaries, while they are accepted, is meant to preserve their rights.

AMERICAN BUTTERINE CO. SUCCEEDS THE STANDARD

A certificate of incorporation has been granted to the American Butterine Company with a capital of $100,000, as a successor of the Standard Butterine Company, now in the hands of a receiver.

At the same time deeds were put on record transferring the plant and real estate of the original concern to the trustees of the new company. The price paid was $71,000. The capitalization of the Standard concern was $500,000.

The officers of the new company are: President, Dr. G. Lloyd Magruder; vice president, Judge William M. Springer; secretary, J. K. Moore, and treasurer, William A. Helprin. The directors are the officers of the company and Dr. Adajah Behrend, Dr. George M. Kober, Giles F. Helprin, Anders Larsen, J. G. Waters, and Rudolph B. Behrend.

SUGGESTS NEW WAY OF CHARGING WATER RENTS

Citizen Writing Under Name of "Well Wisher" Submits Plan to Commissioners.

A citizen of the District signing himself "Well Wisher" has written to the Commissioners, recommending a plan for a more equitable system of water rents. Instead of charging for the number of rooms and number of inhabitants in a house, as is the present system, he suggests that a charge of $1 be made against each lot in front of which water mains are laid, and an additional charge of 50 cents for each faucet or opening on the premises, whether pavement, bath, yard, or laundry. The communication has been noted by the Commissioners, and will be considered by them.

FURTHER CHARGES AGAINST LITTAUER

New York Manufacturer Alleges Conspiracy to Sustain Prices.

Timothy Keck, a Johnstown, N. Y., manufacturer, has made further charges against Representative Lucius N. Littauer in connection with army glove contracts. He claims that Mr. Littauer has conspired to hold the prices up on gloves sold to the army, and maintains that he himself has profited by Mr. Littauer's plan for holding up prices. Mr. Keck declares that other men have also been paid by Mr. Littauer to keep out of the competition.

Mr. Keck is not allowed to enter competition for War Department contracts. He was a member of an alleged combination to hold up prices, which came to the attention of the department through a disgruntled member of the combination.
